iavaarts Yvonne Benasser is a great emerging amateur artist, Born France (1977). She attended high school and has a baccalaureate with a training in plastic arts, although now she works totally in another field: painting, creates art for passion and inner vocation. Her personal experience and evolution leads her to reconnect with art because she believes that art is an essential means to communicate and express beauty, the passion, the inner feelings and is above all curative both for those who make it and for those who come into contact as a spectator. She believes that making art and perceiving art is an improvement in daily life and therefore makes her paintings available also for charitable activities. Yvonne's style is very defined, original and innovative in continuous evolution: she expresses herself and interprets reality through abstract textures experimenting with different materials and techniques. The driving force of his creations is the dynamism of colors, strong, striking, bright and juxtaposed in an energetic and contrasting way.
